Charter Is Denied

Directors Discuss Possible Strategy

Application for a charter for a proposed new bank in Canyon was denied by the State Banking Board Monday in Austin.

Hosea Foster, chairman of the board for the proposed bank, said a motion for a new hearing probably would be filed. He said the possibility of an appeal in event the motion is denied is under consideration.

A spokesman for the banking board said the application was denied "because of lack of public necessity and lack of volume of business."

Members of the banking board are J. M. Falkner, state commissioner of banking; Jesse James, state treasurer; and Robert Strauss, a Dallas attorney who is appointed by the governor.

The vote was reported as having been two to one against granting a charter for the proposed bank. Falkner and James are reported to have voted against the application while Strauss voted for it.

David Levens, who would have been president of the new bank had the charter been granted, called the decision contradictory.

He was quoted as saying the State Banking Commission's investigation report and a transmittal letter to other board members from Falkner indicated "there was sufficient volume of business for the new bank."

Foster said Dudley McCalla, one of the attorneys for the proposed new bank, had advised him that venue on an appeal would be in Austin district court.

If the banking board decision were reversed in court, the board probably would appeal to the Texas Court of Civil Ap-

Hunting Correction

Deer and turkey season ended Monday for local hunters, according to Stanley McDonough, game warden.

This date is in correction to a statement in the November 25 edition of The Canyon News, which listed deer and turkey season as the same as quail season.

Quail season opened November 13, and it will continue here through January 31. Aoudad sheep season, as previously listed, is also correct, and covers a two-day period from December 10-12. Hunting of the sheep is by permit only.

Variety Show Friday Night

A Talent and Variety Show will be presented tomorrow, Friday night, by Circle K International, college affiliate of Kiwanis Club. Some two dozen acts have been entered in the contest.

Entertainment will begin at 8 p. m. in Canyon High School auditorium, and talent will be divided into three divisions, high school, college "Greek," and college independent performers.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in each division. The trophies are on display at the high school and in the Student Union Building of West Texas State University, where they will remain until noon tomorrow.

Special entertainment will be provided by the Amarillo Society for the Advancement and Encouragment of Barbershop Quartets in America. The society will perform after contestants, during the thirty or forty-five minutes in which judges will be making their decisions. Entire program is expected to last two and a half to three hours.

Circle K chapter at WTSU hopes to make the talent and variety show an annual event. Proceeds will be used for regular service projects of the college service club.

Tickets are available from Circle K members, at Cooper's Market and Buffalo Barber Shop, and at the door. Admission is $1 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Performances will include comedy acts, singers and vocal groups, and various other types

Four Fires Mar Holiday

Thanksgiving Day was a busy one for thirty volunteers of the Canyon Fire Department, who answered four fire calls during the day and evening.

According to Fire Captain Joe Rice, the four grass fires were "not too awfully big" and were, in three cases, probably caused by sparks from trains.

These three instances involved calls to fires on railroad right-of-way, at locations six miles south of Canyon, eight miles north of the city and seven miles south of Canyon.

The fourth fire was reported shortly after noon Thursday in

Open House Sunday For New GS Building

Open House for the new Girl Scout house will be held from 3-5 p. m. Sunday, according to Mrs. Charles Nester, scout council chairman.

The building was completed early this fall and is already serving as a meeting place for all Canyon Girl Scout troops. Located at 1603 Third Avenue, it has been a six-year project of the organization.

There will be no formal program for the open house Sunday, but flag raising and lowering ceremonies will be held, weather permitting, before 3 p. m. and after 5 p. m. Cadet troop of Mrs. R. B. Gist Jr., will conduct the flag raising ceremony, and the Senior troop of which Mrs. Alfred Daniel is coordinator will be in charge of lowering the banner.

All scouts and their leaders will attend the reception, although not necessarily at the same time, said Mrs. Nester. "We are officially inviting all who contributed to the building and to the work on it, and there are many of them," she added.

There are three meeting rooms in the house, as well as a kitchen and bath.

Girls earned the funds through cookie sales, putting up posters, and distributing circulars for Cooper's Market. Architectural work for the building was donated by Cliff Abbott, and the driveway was financed and built by Dean Nicholas. Mrs. Nester also

Farm Program Is Explained

The Cropland Adjustment Program, authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, is aimed at removing from surplus production up to 40 million acres for a period of 5 to 10 years, according to Donald F. Lloyd, office manager for Randall County ASCS.

Lloyd this week said the program, which supplements the yearly commodity programs, is designed to reduce overall program cost by obtaining acreage diversions at lower rates over extended periods of time.

Long-term agreements afford farmers more stability and thus better opportunity for planning adjustment in land use.

Lloyd said the new program limits the amount of land that can be put under the program in a county or community. He explained that in any county or community, no more than 10 percent of the allotment or base acreage for any crop will be contracted in any single year and no more than 25 percent during the life of the program. Exceptions may be made, where requested by local governments.

The Cropland Adjustment Program will allow farmers to

Kiwanians Net $206

Kiwanis Club made a profit of $206.27 in their first annual Ku-Ku Burger Day Tuesday, according to member George Blackwell.

Approximately thirty members of the Canyon service club helped with the project, working in three shifts during regular business hours of 11 a. m. - 11 p. m. The figure represents its half of net earnings for the day's business.

Agreement with the drive-in, which is managed by William Cooper, was that the club members take over operation of the business for a day and divide the profits evenly between the establishment and the club.

Funds will be used in service projects.

Buffalo Cagers Open Season Here Saturday

BY ART ALBRACHT

Basketballers of West Texas State University open their 1965-66 season this Saturday night at 9 o'clock against Abilene Christian College in the University Field House.

Coach Jimmy Viramontes begins his third season at WTSU and has two starters back from last season's fine 16-9 team. Coach Viramontes took over as head coach of the Buffs in 1963 and immediately made a winner out of WTSU. His two year record of 29 victories and 18 losses is the best record of any WTSU basketball coach since the years 1950-52.

Opening against the rugged and powerful Wildcats of ACC seems appropriate, since the 1965-66 schedule is one of the toughest the Herd has faced in several years. Included on this season's schedule are teams such as Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Ohio State, Detroit and Texas Western.

"It's the roughest schedule

Canyon Christmas Features Planned

A live Nativity scene and a Christmas Lighting Contest are being sponsored by the Jaycee-Ettes and the Junior Chamber of Commerce this Yule season.

The lighting contest is sponsored by the Junior Chamber and the Jaycee-Ettes are to stage the Nativity scene.

Cash prizes will be awarded in the lighting contest in two divisions -- residential and business.

Three prizes will be awarded in the residential division including a $50 first place, $20 second place and $10 third place. Plaques will also be awarded to the residential winners. Those living within six miles of the city limits of Canyon are eligible to enter the lighting contest.

Plaques for first and second place will be awarded in the commercial division of the contest.

Entry deadline is 5 p. m. Thursday, December 16. Entries may be made by contacting Delbert Turk, chairman, at OL 5-2131 or OL 5-4798, or by contacting Jimmy Scott at OL 5-4200.

Judging will be conducted Friday evening, December 17, by a committee of Jaycees, and winners will be announced December 18 at the Merchants Appreciation Day drawing on the courthouse lawn.

"We hope to have a lot of entries in both divisions," commented Turk. "We are expecting an increase in the number of business places who compete this year."

Three businesses competed last year, with plaques awarded to HR's Flowers for first place and Southwestern Public Service, second place.

Garnering prizes in the residential division last year were Bill Hicks home, first, and George Barker, second. No third place prize was given.

Assisting Delbert Turk with committee duties are Jimmy Scott and Weldon Prichard.

The annual holiday nativity scene will feature seven live characters, including the Three Wise Men, Mary, Joseph, the angel and shepherd boy, according to Mrs. Allen Parson, chairman.

December 16-17 have been set as presentation dates. The scene will be presented on the courthouse lawn from 7-9 p. m. each evening.

Assisting Mrs. Parson will be Mesdames Guy Hamblen, Gerry King, Charles Marshall and Jimmy Scott. Additional members of the Jaycee-Ettes and Junior Chamber of Commerce will also participate in the scene.

Couple Wins Contest

For the second week in a row, a husband-and-wife team have come up with first and second prizes in the weekly football contest, and once again it is the wife who took the first place award of $10.

Mr. and Mrs. Arden Beghtel, of 2401 Twelfth Avenue, tied in the number of correct guesses, and the tie-breakers were used to name Mrs. Beghtel winner. Second place prize of $5 will be given to Mr. Beghtel.

Sorghum Harvest Complete

The grain sorghum harvest is about complete, cotton harvest is well underway, and the wheat fields are stocked with cattle.

This is a brief summary of the agricultural situation in Randall County as reported this week by John Brazzil, County Agent.

Brazzil reports that fall seeded wheat was infected with a moderate amount of leaf rust in October. This leaf rust is expected to reduce the vigor of the plant and kill the older leaves but the rust spore will be killed by cold weather this winter.

This disease will not live over on the plant and cause damage next spring.

Topsoil moisture is short. This moisture shortage plus the rust is expected to reduce the grazing on dryland wheat. Thus far cattle are doing very well on wheat fields. Irrigated wheat should continue to produce good grazing until very cold weather stops topgrowth.

Cotton producers were waiting on a good freeze to dry out the plant and cause the mature bolls to pop open. About 1500 bales of cotton are expected from this years crop.

The grain sorghum crop was a very good one. The good feed crop plus a good year for cattle means that Randall County farmers and ranchers will remember 1965 as a good year.

Musicians In Tryouts

Twelve members of the Canyon High School Band will participate today, Thursday, in All-Region Tryouts at Caprock High School in Amarillo.

Tryouts will begin at 4 p. m. this afternoon, and ratings will be announced this evening. The All-Region Band selected will present a concert at 7:30 p. m. December 11 in the Caprock auditorium, said Gary Zook, Canyon band director.

Region I, North Zone, contestants who are given first chair rankings at Caprock will be eligible to try out for All-State Band. This competition will be held January 8 at West Texas State University. Depending on instrument played, Zook noted, some musicians will qualify directly for All-State Band, while others will go on to area tryouts at Lubbock January 22. All-State Band is scheduled for February 10-12 and will be held in Dallas.

Entries from Canyon in the regional meet today are Nancy

National Recognition Given WT Department

BY LINDA LOVE

West Texas State University Department of Music has been elected to Associate Membership in the National Association of Schools of Music.

Admission to membership came last Friday at the forty-first annual meeting of the association in Chicago. Dr. John E. Green, head of the WT department of music, represented the school at the meeting.

Curricula approved for the department lead to degrees of Bachelor of Music Education, Bachelor of Arts in Music, Bachelor of Science in Music, Master of Arts in Music, and Master of Arts in Music Education.

Acceptance followed a year of self-study by the department, and an evaluative examination last April by Dr. Robert L. Briggs, member of the association's committee on curricula and Dean of Fine Arts at Tulsa University. After two years as an associate member, an institution may update its self-survey, request a second evaluation visit by the association and become a full member.

Dr. Green commented that he felt the acceptance was a significant accomplishment, as stardards set by NASM are "high and not easily satisfied."

He went on to explain that requirements affect all aspects of the music offerings at an institution, including courses, performance standards, instructional procedures, administration, faculty, library facilities, physical plant and equipment and finance and budget.

In reporting to the association Dr. Briggs said, "This is an excellent department, functioning well and made up of an

COVERING FUMBLES

I may be completely devoid of "sense of humor" and still love a good joke on you; "sense of humor" is measured by how well I can enjoy a good joke on me.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

Texas legislators are notoriously underpaid and there's an old saying that you get about what you're willing to pay for.

Texas voters have turned down efforts to raise legislative pay.

A member of the Texas House draws $4800 a year with a per diem allowance of $12 a day for 120 days of a regular session and for the first 30 days of a special session.

Many members of the legislature are attorneys and supplement their salaries by taking cases. Ordinarily there's nothing wrong with this if the case does not involve conflict of interest.

Austin is literally crawling with conflict of interest.

Attorneys in the legislature unblushingly accept fat fees to argue cases for assorted clients before various state boards.

They are obviously hired for the pressure they can bring rather than for doing their homework. Sometimes they don't even make a pretense at preparing a case. The work is done by the client's lawyer back home. Representative Joe Doaks just makes noises in front of the board in order to give his fee the verneer of respectability.

Sometimes it's even embarrassing to the spectator when, for instance, the lawyer-legislator weeps over the needs of cotton farmers of a community which in reality produces little or no cotton.

We need some strict conflict of interest statutes on the books. No member of the Texas House or Senate should ever be allowed to plead a case for a fee before any state board whatsoever.

On the other side of the ledger, the people of Texas should pay members of their legislature salaries comensurate with responsibility and work demanded of them as the state's lawmakers. This the people of Texas are not doing at the present time.

Joe Kerbel's Buffaloes had a good season. They played some tough teams and still came out with a 6-4 record for the year.

The victory over Bowling Green early in the fall may have given Buff fans higher hopes than they had any right to have with the schedule the Buffs were facing.

Joe is rounding out his sixth year as head mentor for the Buffs. Some years have waxed lean and some have waxed fat -- such as the vintage year of 1962.

Kerbel is one of the great coaches of his day. Turn on your TV any Sunday afternoon and you'll have a hard time tuning in a football game that doesn't have a Kerbel-trained kid playing in it.

To name a few, there's Bob Petrich, Jerry Don Logan, and Jerry Richardson. Now George Allen has signed with the Houston Oilers for a reported fabulous bonus.

Kerbel first was introduced to the pigskin on a vacant lot in a small Oklahoma town. The football bug bit him and he never recovered.

Joe played freshman ball at Tulsa and then went on to OU. He was a Marine captain during the war and maybe this explains some of his toughness.

Gallant Buffalo Team Falls To Miners 38-21

BY ART ALBRACHT

An assortment of bad breaks and a tremendous passing attack by Texas Western, spelled defeat for the West Texas State University Buffaloes as the Herd fell to the Miners 38-21 in the Sun Bowl last Saturday.

The Buffs tied the battle 21-21 early in the third quarter but three costly interceptions in the final quarter led to defeat. WTSU was in the game until defensive halfback Charles West picked off an aerial by Spencer "Hank" Washington and returned it to the Buff 29 early in the final stanza. It took TWC five plays to score and gave the Miners a comfortable margin of 38-21.

WTSU failed to capitalize on several breaks late in the game but the Miners held a big enough lead, so as to protect against the bomb, although, on several occasions the Herd penetrated deep enough to rush for a touchdown. TWC halted two WTSU drives with pass interceptions and another on the Miner one yard line, in the fading minutes of the fourth quarter.

The Miners enjoyed an unusual number of breaks early in the battle and turned most of them into scores. WTSU actually lost the game on big third down plays. Repeated during the fracas, the Miners would pick up long gainers on long third downs, to keep their scoring drives moving.

Washington and Billy Stevens put on a tremendous passing show throwing 91 aerials between them. Washington fired for 286 yards while completing 16 of 35 passes, to break the school season mark of 1359 yards passing set by Gene Mayfield in 1950. Stevens did even better than Washington, as he fired the pigskin for 355 yards to increase his season's passing total to 3,032 yards he became only the second college player in history to pass for more than 3,000 yards.

TWC scored in just 46 seconds of the battle when defensive standout Harrison Gamble picked off a Wshington pass and returned it 28 yards for the opening Miner tally. Joe Cook added the conversion point and the Miners led 7-0.

The Buffs took the kickoff but couldn't move the ball and punted. Stevens directed the Miners deep into Herd territory, passing every down except one, mostly to sensational receiver Chuck Anderson. TWC moved deep enough to attempt a field goal but it missed off to the right.

Later in the first quarter, the Buffs got a big break when Billy Stevens fumbled at the Miner 44. The Herd, however, couldn't turn the chance into a tally. Roy Armentrout punted dead to the TWC 24. Quickly, the Miners moved for a first down but the Herd dug in and forced the TWC delegation to punt.

The Miners were on the move on their next possession but the Buffs halted the drive at the WTSU eight when Jim Young intercepted a pass. Before the Unfriendly Society barely got off the field, halfback Donald Dennis fumbled the ball right back to the Miners at the Herd 6. Mark Yarbrough, who rushed for 75 yards in seven carries, bolted into the end zone on the first down to increase the TWC edge to 13-0. Again Cook converted and as time ran out in the opening quarter, TWC led 14-0.

WTSU came back with unbelieveable swiftness, as Washington connected with Armentrout on a 64-yard scoring pass. The Buffs had taken the Miner kickoff and returned it to the Herd 36. On first down, Washington hooked up with Armentrout and the Sun Bowl crowd of 14,767 knew they were in for a dandy. Freshmen Tom Fambrough, who had a perfect kicking game, added the extra point and Herd trailed by only seven.

After TWC bogged down on its next possession, the Buffs got the ball back at their 28. Washington then exploded a 59 yard aerial to Dave Szymakowski, setting up a first down at the Texas Western 13.

Szymakowski was playing in place of Ted Wheeler and in his first starting role, set a modern school record with eight pass receptions in the TWC battle. The Herd tried to move the ball in for a touchdown but finally had to settle for a 23-yard field goal by Fambrough. The three pointer cut the lead to only 14-10 TWC.

Texas Western then moved from its own 22 to the Herd eleven, with Stevens passing on every down except one when halfback Yarbrough crashed one yard for a Miner first down at the TWC 33. The two biggest gainers of the drive came on third down plays. Stevens whipped a 22-yard pass to end Bob Wallace and another of the same distance to Anderson. On a fourth and 11 situation from the WTSU eleven, the Miners tried a field goal but cornerman Tom Krempasky blocked it at the Herd nine.

WTSU failed to move for a first down and Armentrout booted the pigskin out to the TWC 47. The Buffs then picked off a Stevens pass on first down for the Miners, to set up a scoring opportunity. Again the Buffs failed to make use of it and punted.

The Miners set up shop at their 13 when Chuck Hughes took a fair catch. In just five plays, Stevens moved TWC in for another marker. Stevens hit Wallace for gains of 16 and eleven during the fast moving drive. Halfback Charles West grabbed a Stevens aerial and raced into the end zone for the big touchdown. The scoring bomb covered 37 yards and after Cook converted, Texas Western held a 21-10 lead.

Again the gallant Herd came back to cut the TWC lead. Szymakowski on first down from the WTSU 36, beat his defender and Washington shot a long aerial to the sophomore end. The play covered 64 yards and went for a touchdown. A tackle eligible play worked for a pair of conversion points, when tackle Terry Funk caught a Washington pass in the end zone.

As the first half came to a close, the Buffs trailed the tough Miners by only three points at 21-18 TWC.

Early in the final half, the Herd got a big break when punter Don Davis missed the center pass and the Buffs covered the pigskin. WTSU had to settle for a field goal by Fambrough, although the Buffs got the ball at the Miner three. Fambrough's three pointer tied the game at 21-21.

Stevens immediately brought the Miners right back, as he moved the pigskin for a tally in 13 plays which covered 72 yards. All-America honorable mention flankerback, Chuck Hughes, took the ball in for a touchdown from the WTSU four, when Stevens flipped a pass to the receiver. Cook converted and TWC moved out in front to stay.

WTSU tried to move with the ball but could do little, as Armentrout punted again. Stevens cranked up the passing machine and set the stage for a Texas Western field goal by Cook. From the Miner 13, Stevens rolled TWC to the Herd 15 and from that yard stripe, Cook booted the field goal. The Miners now held a 31-21 margin, as the final stanza began.

The teams exchanged punts before TWC set up a golden scoring chance, when West of the Miners intercepted a Washington aerial at the Buff 29. TWC wasted little time in scoring when halfback Yarbrough dashed 19 yards for a touchdown, only seconds later. That final Miner marker iced the game for TWC but not before the Buffs made several last minute efforts to score. Each time the Herd had a drive going, the Miners sniped Washington passes to kill the attempts.

WTSU closed the season with a 6-4 record while the Miners finished 7-3 and now prepare for the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University in the post-season Sun Bowl clash in El Paso.

Campus Plans Making Grounds Green, Bright

BY LINDA LOVE

Neat, green lawns and bright, fresh flower beds have caught the eyes of Canyon residents, West Texas State University students and visitors and tourists alike on the WT campus this year.

"We concentrated this year on the grass," commented Grounds Superintendent George Fugitt, who came to WTSU in January. "And we figured that after the grass, if we could add anything extra, it would look that much better."

Work began immediately on both phases. Soil samples from various locations on campus were sent to the Texas A&M Experimental Station, and recommendations received from them were followed. Approximately 80,000 pounds of fertilizer was used for the grass this summer, several times more than before.

Grounds maintenance men also received administration approval to purchase 1500 petunias, as well as additional chrysanthemums, to be planted in existing flower beds. Three types of each flower were planted. Yellow chrysanthemums called Gold Lode were used in the foreground, backed with the white Jessamine Williams and the red Remembrance.

Petunias planted were the red Comanche, White Cascade and Red Cascade. The two latter types are flower box variety which drape gracefully. Comanche was used predominately in front of chrysanthemums.

Most of the plants will be left in, with chrysanthemums to be replaced in two or three years, Fugitt said. The mums are especially effective for campus use toward the end of the year, when they add special life as leaves begin to fall.

Fugitt plans to add as many more flowers again next year and to work out a flower bed design to "dress it up a little more."

Just now, however, work is beginning on winter care of the grounds, as well as some relandscaping.

One of the most important areas on campus, Fugitt feels, is the highway side, particularly near the Student Union Building, as this area is seen by tourists and all other visitors entering or leaving Canyon. Among plans for the SUB are lawn rejuvenating and planting of more trees and flowers.

Rapid growth of WTSU and its facilities mean additional work, also. The new ground around the Applied Science Building must be landscaped and readied for spring seeding of grasses, as must the grounds around the Killgore Research Center and the library addition. A proposed addition to Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will call for still more planning.

The entire winter work load is shared by twenty full-time maintenance men, who are responsible for the whole campus area as well as the football field. This number of workers is increased during summer months to approximately thirty to handle more effectively the chores of constant watering and weeding of the lawns.

"Our biggest problem right now is maintenance itself," explained Fugitt. "There's so much grass (75 acres) and not enough people to water and maintain it properly."

It is hoped that an underground watering system will be provided sometime in the near future, for during the heat of summer the only method of watering now available is by hose and sprinkler.

The campus is divided into seven areas, with two men assigned to each area during the summer. This number drops to one for winter work, with one assigned to pick up trash on the area.

Maintenance of the football field requires a substantial amount of time, especially in summer and early fall.

"We have redone the football field entirely," said Fugitt, "but the early freeze we had after the second game hit us hard there."

Tree maintenance is another aspect of winter care, and the department is beginning a project of winter fertilizing of the trees. This has never been done before to the big trees, according to Fugitt.

Most trees on campus are American elm, honey locust or walnut. The flowering trees consist of redbud, flowering crab apples and a few flowering peach trees.

"We need to start a program of planting more flowering trees and others rather than the big elms," said Fugitt, "due to the encroachment of Dutch elm disease." The disease, fatal to American elms, has spread across the country and will soon be threatening this area.

"If we plant oaks and locusts and flowering trees far enough in advance," he explained, "we'll eventually have them growing beneath the others ready to take their place."

Meanwhile, efforts continue on lawn work. Next year a spraying program will be initiated, and herbicides will be used for weed control. Bermuda grass is used now and will be continued as long as the school is without underground irrigation, as it is impossible to keep other grasses out under present conditions. According to Fugitt, blue grass would be the best replacement, since it remains green longer, and if a new watering system is brought about, blue grass and rye will be substituted.

Fugitt served as assistant superintendent of grounds at Texas Tech before coming to WTSU in January. He graduated from Tech in June of 1964 with a degree in park administration.

Fugitt's greatest concern has been a dual one -- presenting the best possible appearance to visitors to the WT campus, and providing pleasant surroundings to the students. This began shortly after his arrival on campus, and his first actions included removal of various signs posted about campus.

"Signs have no place in the landscape," he asserted. "However, something I would like to see added is several benches, so students could relax and enjoy the landscape, instead of having to sit on the steps or not at all on campus."

The placing of redwood benches on campus is one of Fugitt's greatest wishes. He has constructed one himself, and it is located now between the administration and education buildings; but he would like to see more benches scattered about the campus, under shade trees and near dormitories.

"The redwood blends in nicely with the scenery," he said, "and the benches last well." He hopes some of the campus organizations might take an interest in providing the benches.

Fugitt is working now on a permanent plan to be used over the years. A scaled map would be set up and flower beds and other points located in accordance with landmarks. Another plan is an eventual greenhouse where the school might do its own propagating and thereby have year-round color provided by changing seasonal flowers.

Fugitt stopped and looked about the campus. "This is pretty important," he said. "Visitors coming to Canyon, and especially to WT, see more of the campus area than they do of anything else."

CAMPUS FLOWERS are discussed by West Texas State University grounds superintendent George Fugitt, right, and Ray Hawkins, one of twenty men assigned during winter season to maintain the entire WT campus as well as the football field. Additional flowers are only a small part of the new grounds beautification program.

Math Grant Announced

A grand of more than $50,000 has been awarded by the National Science Foundation to West Texas State University to conduct a summer institute in mathematics for high school teachers.

The institute, fourth to be granted WTSU's mathematics department, has been scheduled June 6-July 29, according to Dr. H. L. Cook, head of the department.

Forty high school teachers will be selected to participate, under the NSF institute plan teachers participating will receive a stipend of $600, plus allowances for dependents and travel.

Applications will be available in early January, Dr. Cook said.

Participants will take two courses, one in algebra and the other in geometry and will attend a daily seminar which will be conducted by Dr. Cook, director of the institute. Study of mathematics materials, data processing computers, films and a field trip to the White Sands missile range are also planned.

Assisting Dr. Cook as institute staff members will be David Lasher and Fletcher Mosley, both assistant professors of mathematics at WTSU.

The institute at WTSU is one of hundreds sponsored throughout the nation by the National Science Foundation to assist teachers in keeping up to date in their field. Mathematics institutes were conducted at WTSU last summer and in 1959 and 1960.

Eagles Tip Bulldogs In Overtime 65 To 63

Canyon High School fought from behind to win a breath taking 65-63 overtime victory over 2 AAAA Borger in Canyon last Tuesday.

The game was tied 61-61 in regular playing time and a three minute overtime resulted in a victory for the Canyon HS boys in their opening game of the new season. Canyon took the lead in the playoff period when Dennis Haley shot a beautiful pass to Mark Lair under the basket. Lair took the pass at the right side of the lane and flipped the ball in for a field goal.

Lair's two pointer made the score 63-61 Canyon with two minutes left in the three minute overtime. Borger then missed a free shot and Canyon rebounded. Time was running out for the Buffdogs of Borger and the Bulldogs were forced to foul. Tom Lair fired in a charity toss to give the Eagles a 64-61 lead with 40 seconds left.

With only 30 seconds remaining, Borger hit on a 30-foot jump shot to cut the Canyon lead to only one point. The Eagles then stalled by simply hanging on to the ball but Borger fouled intentionally to stop the clock. Tom Lair again tossed in a free shot, giving the Eagles their final two-point margin of 65-63.

A last minute desperation long shot by the Bulldogs hit the rim of the basket and bounced away as the final buzzer sounded.

Borger jumped out in front by a ten-point spread early in the battle and held a 34-28 lead at halftime. CHS outscored the Bulldogs 13-9 in the final quarter to knot the battle at 61-61.

Mark Lair racked up 20 points to lead the Eagles in scoring while 6-5 Rick Bacon fired in 16 markers. Dale Dawson was high for the Bulldogs with 25 points, to lead both schools in scoring.

From the field, CHS hit with an accuracy of 44 percent, in the first half but a final half cold spell dropped the figure below 40 per cent.

"I thought the boys did a fine job and if they keep up the hustle shown tonight, we'll have a winning season," said Coach Tom Buchanan.

The CHS boys play next against Price Catholic in the West Texas State Tourney at 9 p. m. Friday in the annual tournament sponsored by the Phi Epsilon Kappa Men s physical education fraternity at WTSU.

Canyon High School's girls team opened with an easy 64-30 victory over Channing High School last Tuesday in the CHS gymnasium.

Canyon jumped out to an early lead against the weaker Channing team and continued to increase the margin throughout the fracas. CHS led 27-13 at the half and rolled to a victory in its opening game of the 1965-66 season.

Pam Sterenberg ripped the nets for 20 points to lead the Canyon girls in scoring. Charlotte Allen was runner-up to Sterenberg in scoring with 16 big points in the battle.

Sharon Hunt tallied 24 points to lead Channing and all scorers in total points.

CHS is entered in the annual boys and girls tournament at West Texas State University sponsored by the Phi Epsilon Kappa Men's physical education fraternity. The CHS girls meet Claude in the opening round of the tourney at 5:30 p. m. tomorrow, in the University Field House on the WTSU campus.

Vernon Hawkins (24) is shown here dribbling down court. Coming in to guard him is Bulldog Sonny Jordan. The Eagles clawed the Bulldogs 65 to 63 here Tuesday night in the season opener.

mentioned Jack Taylor as having been generous with time and advice.

Construction on the house itself was done by Tom Keeling, Randall County Building Company. The original building was sold somewhat more than a year ago to Randall County Sheriff Posse for use as headquarters, and the structure was moved off the land. Construction was begun the last of May of this year.

Girl Scouts program was begun in the fall of 1927, and early meetings were conducted in various lodges and city buildings until a building was donated in 1947 by West Texas State College. Funds for the land were raised by the girls through projects and donations of local businessmen.

Mrs. Nester has served as scout council chairman the past six years and has been a scout leader approximately ten years. Coordinators in this year's program are Mrs. Charles E. Wright, Brownies; Mrs. Troy Martin, Junior level; Mrs. R. B. Gist, Jr., Cadet; Mrs. Alfred Daniel, Senior; and Mrs. C. W. Robinson, coordinator for North Randall County.

There are four distinct levels of scouting, with several troops included usually under each level.

Brownies are made up of girls in second and third grades at school or seven or eight years of age. Helping with Brownie activities are the following groups: Mrs. Don Rice, Mrs. Bob Olson and Mrs. Don Wright, leaders, and Melody Jones, Senior Scout; Mrs. W. C. Johnson, leader, and Mrs. R. A. Lindsey and Mrs. Robert Wright; Mrs. Burl Brim, leader, Mrs. Dudley Moore, Jr., Mrs. Richard Romoser, and Terry Blasdel, Senior Scout; and Mrs. Bobby Aduddel, leader of North Randall County Brownies.

Junior level includes fourth, fifth and sixth graders, and leaders are Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman and Mrs. Sam Jolly. Working with Mrs. Kuhlman are Mrs. Billy Hill, Mrs. W. A. Patton, Mrs. J. C. Bellah and Mrs. Lois Hull. Assisting Mrs. Jolly are Mrs. Jesse Bewley, Mrs. Bill Wilson and Mrs. Louis Hinders. Junior leaders in North Randall County are Mrs. Les Maulton and Mrs. Lou McKensie.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls participate in scouting on the cadet level, advised by Mrs. Gist and assisted by Jan Brotherton.

Senior Scouts include girls in tenth through twelfth grades. In these troops, as well as those of the Cadet level, girls are encouraged to organize and plan their own programs and activities. Leaders act as advisors rather than actual leaders. Senior advisors are Mrs. Daniel and Mrs. Dean Nicholas, and they are assisted by Natalie Skelly, West Texas State University freshman.

Open house arrangements are under direction of Mrs. Jesse Bewley.

a field adjacent to Abbott Tower Apartments and was brought under control immediately.

A small grass fire was also reported Tuesday night at Haney Switch, between Canyon and Amarillo.

Rice renewed the department warning to citizens to take care and watch for fires. He expects the recent killing freeze to produce greater problems than before.

The four holiday fires bring the November total to fifteen grass fires to which the Canyon department has been called. Continuous dry weather is adding to the danger and fire potential every day.

The 64-member band won a first division rating November 9 in University Interscholastic League marching competition at West Texas State University, and will compete in two other phases, concert and sightreading, in April contests. Bands must place first division in all three areas to qualify for state rating.

divert cropland to protective conservation uses under long-term agreements. Participants will receive payments related to the value of crops normally produced on the land, according to Lloyd. They also will be eligible for conservation cost payments on diverted land.

The ASCS man said that in general, operating farms which have been under the same ownership for three years prior to the agreement period are eligible for the program. Exceptions to this general rule are farms which have changed ownership by will or succession due to death of the previous owner and farms which for three years prior to the agreement have been under the control of the person who will control it for the full period of the agreement.

Farmers who participate will receive payments based on past use and productivity of the land.

For land that would otherwise produce wheat, corn, grain sorghum or barley, the annual payment rate per acre will be 40 percent of the county price support loan times the normal farm yield for the crop. Payment on cotton land will be at the farm yield times 6 cents per pound.

After placing all of the acreage of one or more of these crops in the program, the farmer may offer other land. Rates for this cropland will range nationally from $3 to $7 an acre.

Lloyd said all land taken out of production under the program will be put to conservation uses. In addition to conservation practices, wildlife plantings and vegetative cover crops will be authorized, Lloyd declared.

Cropland Adjustment Program will be administered in Randall County by the ASC Committee. Details on how the program would apply to an individual farm should be available in the Randall County office the latter part of this month or early in January.

Lloyd also reported that cotton allotments still may be transferred by sale or lease within the county although Randall county producers rejected a proposition concerning transfer outside of the county in a recent cotton referendum. Information on such lease and sale of allotments is available at the ASCS office here.

interested staff, a loyal student body and an excellent department head, supported by a fine upper echelon administrative staff."

Membership gives greater prestige to all WT music graduates, said Dr. Green, and provides a stronger basis for their acceptance to graduate schools of their choice.

The NASM is designated by the National Commission on Accrediting as the responsible agency for the accreditation of music degree curricula, and the work of the Association contributes actively to continual development of music in America. Membership includes 290 universities, colleges and conservatories in the nation, with seven new schools admitted at this meeting and six schools promoted from associate to full membership.

The WT department offers training and experience for music students preparing for professional careers as band and orchestral conductors and instrumental music teachers; choral conductors and vocal music teachers; public school classroom music teachers; private studio teachers in all media; church ministry of music; and professional performance activities. The primary aim of the department is development of general and sound musicianship.

WTSU is currently celebrating the Silver Anniversary of Dr. Houston Bright as composer-in-residence by offering a series of five special concerts featuring music composed by Dr. Bright for chorus and orchestra.

First of the concerts will be presented Sunday at 3 p. m. by the University Chorale under Dr. Bright's direction. The Chorale is touring the Panhandle and Tri-State area this week on its annual fall concert tour. Chosen by audition, the group consists of 44 vocalists and is accompanied by a Brass and Percussion Company of 12 musicians. Program will be in the Fine Arts Building auditorium.

In addition to the annual tour the Chorale appears in concert at various times during the year in this area, as well as making periodic television appearances.

According to Dr. Green, the department philosophy is "performance is the essence of music," and this is exemplified in the abundance of performing opportunities and activities available to students of music at WT.

As Christmas draws nearer the public is given increased opportunities to see the young performers in concert. University Chorus will present Handel's "Messiah" at 3 p. m. December 12 in the Canyon High School auditorium. The chorus, open to all university students, presents two concerts each year, accompanied by the Chamber Orchestra, a group of approximately 40 musicians.

The Orchestra is under direction of Theodore Madsen and serves a variety of purposes, including support of the opera and musical comedy productions. It has a concert scheduled for February 6.

This year brings a change in the arrangement of orchestral duties at WT. Until this fall the Marching Band has automatically become the concert band at the close of football season. This year, however, there will be two such organizations.

Director of Bands Gary Garner will direct the University Symphonic Band, composed of 63 members. Membership is selected by competitive tryout, and the Marching Band is split into the two concert groups.

Second group is the Concert Band, which includes 76 musicians and is directed by Assistant Director of Bands Donald Baird. The two groups will both perform in home concerts, and the directors will share and exchange conducting duties.

First joint concert is scheduled for December 16. The Symphonic Band will make a tour of the northern Panhandle area February 28 - March 4.

A smaller group of 17 pieces is the Collegians, the stage band, a select group of WT band members. Its function is more social, and among planned performances is a program December 16 in the Student Union Building. The dance-type band participates annually in the Stage Band Festival, previously held here but scheduled for Pampa early next spring. The Collegians appear as guest performers at the high school festival, and joining them as guests this year will be "Tonight" show's trumpet player Doc Severinson and five other musicians from the Johnny Carson show. They will act as judges and perform.

Other performing opportunities exist for instrumentalists with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, and fifteen WT students now are members of that group.

Cooperative effort of the music and drama departments is the Opera Workshop, under direction of Royal Brantley, who conducts the University Chorus, as well. Workshop productions include chamber operas and, since May of 1960, a two-week presentation of the WT Spring Musical each year. The musical this year will be offered April 19-23 and April 26-30.

Music department carries on many additional activities, including faculty and student recitals throughout the year, regional high school music contests and workshops, and such special features as the Instrumental Music Camp, one of the largest of its kind in the country with an average of 700 students attending. The camp is scheduled for July 17-29 of next summer.

Four chapters of national music professional fraternities are active on campus. While the primary purpose of each is to spread the cause of music, they also serve by raising funds for scholarships; serving as ushers at concerts and recitals; presenting recitals and promoting performance of American music; sponsoring projects that work to the benefit of the department and the university; and providing opportunity for social events among students with a common interest in music.

The four organizations are Mu Phi Epsilon, international honorary music sorority for women; Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity for men; Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary sorority for women who are members of the University Band; and Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary fraternity for men who are band members.

confronting WTSU since I've been here," said Coach Viramontes recently. The coach added the fact that the Herd plays 13 games on the road and only 10 at home makes it even tougher.

In one stretch the Buffs will play 13 of 17 games away from home. That stretch begins on Dec. 15 when the Herd meets North Texas State University and continues until Feb. 14 against Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.

Coach Viramontes sees cause for optimism in the upcoming season. The coach figures the schedule to be two years ahead of time but adds that the team members also have a jump on his rebuilding schedule.

"I'll feel we'll be improved since we have depth, better heighth and speed. Whether we improve our won-loss record will be the challenge ahead," said the cautious coach.

Two of the big men the Herd will depend on for improvement of the season record are seniors Gail Simpson and Calvin Taylor. Simpson is the "quarterback" on the court and is probably the most consistent performer at WTSU in years. Taylor came along fast at end of the 1964-65 season and will be depended upon heavily this year to bring down rebounds against Buffalo opposition.

Taylor was second to Kirby Pugh in rebounding average the past season with an average of 7.2 a contest. The 6-7 center will be depended on more for shooting this season than last, when he averaged only 6.6 points a game. The Herd lost three of its top four shooters from the team of 1964-65, Simpson, who averaged 11.1 points a game, was fourth in the top four of last year's quintet.

Expected to take up some rebounding and shooting slack left by the great Kirby Pugh, is 6-5 junior Mickey Fitts of Canyon.

Fitts, who never played high school ball, is a steady shooter and continues to improve with every appearance. Playing some in all except one of the WTSU games in the past season, Fitts hit from the field at a percentage consistency of 54 percent. Opposite Fitts at another forward spot will be junior college transfer Bill Reeves. The 6-4 transfer from Del Mar Junior College and Raymondville, Texas performed well in the annual Hall of Fame Game several weeks ago and takes over the chores of Pugh.

Joe "Pogo" McWilliams performs opposite Simpson and has tremendous speed exhibited especially in the fast break. The 5-9 guard is a graduate of Lubbock Dunbar and is a two year letterman. McWilliams, known as "Pogo" because of his unbelieveable jumping ability, fired in 8.8 points a game and saw duty in 24 of 25 games last season.

Though the Buffs have defeated this week's opponent in 26 of 37 battles. The Wildcats appear to be favorites. Abilene Christian marched to a 17-9 mark in 1964-65 and lost in the finals of the regional tournament of the NCAA in Warrenburg, Missouri.

ACC ranked second in the nation last year in field goal percentage with a mark of 53.7 and finished in a tie with Arkansas State in the Southland Conference basketball race.

The Wildcats crushed the Herd 84-62 in Abilene last season but had to fight for their lives before sneaking past the Buffs 78-72 in Canyon. Top offensive and defensive performer for the Wildcats is senior forward Charles Cleek. The 6-8 All-Southland Conference court man averaged 19.7 points per battle in the past season and can shoot from anywhere on the court. Jerry Morgan, a 6-7 senior center, fired in 13 points a game in the ACC quintet of 1964-65.

Cleek also is the Wildcats top rebounder and shot with a 56.7 field goal percentage last season. Another fine ACC basketballer is 6-3 forward Terry Priest, a senior letterman. A pair of sophomores, John Godfrey and Larry Adams, are expected to start at the open guard spots.

Coach Dee Nutt has seven letterman back from his solid team of 1964-65.

And so, with a bang the 1965 editon of WTSU basketball begins the season against a tough ACC team, which is just a sample of the competition the Herd faces in the new and challenging season.

Fun 'n' Folk

BY LINDA LOVE

Congratulations to members of the Student Union Board and Student Senate at West Texas State University. Not really on anything in particular, although there are plenty of successes to point to, such as the record-breaking attendance at the recent night of entertainment. But mostly, congratulations on a successful semester.

Christmas activities are coming soon, and then it won't be long before "dead week" and finals, but the students have accomplished what they set out to do at the beginning of the school year.

"Our purpose this semester has been to create a school unity here at WT and to bring our name to people's attention -- to gain publicity for the school itself," said Student Union Board President Jerry Webb, "and we feel we've done just that." A group of senators and Student Senate President Randy Chennault nodded agreement.

With such activities as the "Bleed-In," projects by Phi Delta Theta and the Student Senate Fun Day committee to raise more than $1800 for the new entranceway, and the initiation of successful big-name entertainment on campus, the hard-working students may well take pride in the first two and a half months of this school year.

Speaking of "big names," I noticed that Fabian is really becoming a serious actor now: he's using both first and last names on the cast list. Of course, when he's on the bill with Sam Jaffe (of "Ben Casey" fame), it'll be quite an achievement to identify anyone behind all the hair.

Received a card from my father. He'd received it from a friend of his and thought I'd enjoy reading it. Hope you do, too. It's called "An American Creed," by Dean Alfange.

"I do not choose to be a common man. It is my right to be uncommon. . .if I can.

"I seek opportunity. . .not security. I do not wish to be kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed.

"I refuse to barter incentive for a dole. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale calm of Utopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act for myself; enjoy the benefits of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, "This I have done." All this is what it means to be an American.

Debate Teams To Be Matched By Computers

Eight debaters from West Texas State University will compete in the state's first computer matched debate tournament Friday at Texas A&M University.

WTSU teams, competing in junior and senior divisions, will be paired with teams from other colleges in the state for the first round, according to Gene Lewis, director of forensics. From the second through the sixth rounds, teams will be matched by computer.

Topic for the tournament is "Resolved: That law enforcement agencies in the United States should be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crimes." Highlight of the two-day meet will be a debate on the national issue between the University of Texas and Texas A&M.

Representing WTSU in the senior division will be Randy Hollums of Floydada, Tanya Benton of Amarillo, Robert Trapp of Perryton, and Sammye Monroe of Pampa. Junior division teams will include Steven Busby, William Slagle and Sandra Markley, all of Amarillo, and Laura Edler of Dalhart.

Professors To Austin

Five West Texas State University professors will attend a policy committee meeting of the Texas Association of College Teachers in Austin Friday.

About 100 college and university teachers from throughout the state are expected for the two-day conference, which will consider recommendations on faculty compensation and benefits. Main points will be improvement of the teacher retirement system and other "fringe" benefits.

Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the WTSU speech department, is currently second vice-president of the state TACT, and will attend an executive committee meeting Friday afternoon.

Others from WTSU planning to attend the meeting are Charles E. Wright, associate professor of biology, and WTSU chapter president; Ocie Chism, assistant professor of business, and chapter vice president; Dr. Ples Harper, head of the modern languages department; and Dr. Ray Malzahn, associate professor of chemistry.

Club Hears Businessman

Kenton Knorpp Tuesday addressed a formal dinner meeting of Iota Epsilon, Society for the Advancement of Individual Enterprise.

Knorpp, a graduate of West Texas State University, spoke to the WT students on "Opportunities for the Young Man in Small Business." The meeting was held at the Coronado Inn in Amarillo.

Iota Epsilon is an organization designed to study small businesses, their problems and rewards, and activities include the sponsoring of seminars and various programs.

Members are college students and businessmen interested in the advancement of individual enterprise. The group meets the second Tuesday of the month at 12:15 p. m. in the formal lounge of the WT Student Union Building. Dinner meeting is held the last Tuesday night of each month, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

President of the society is Jim Collins, and faculty sponsor is Ocie Chism, assistant professor of business.

BARBARA COTTEN, sophomore music student majoring in flute, is the daughter of Mrs. Blanche Cotton of Andrews. Miss Cotten is band secretary and member of the Symphonic Band and University Orchestra. She is also a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, international honorary music sorority for women, and Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary sorority for women in the University Band. Miss Cotten plans to teach public school music after graduation.

English Institute Is Approved Again

For the second year a Summer English Institute has been approved for West Texas State University through the National Defense Education Act, according to Dr. Pat Sullivan, head of the department of student teaching.

Dr. Sullivan, who conducted the first institute last summer at WTSU, will direct the second program, scheduled June 6 - July 15. About 40 area high school teachers of English will be selected early next spring for the institute, after a date has been set for applications, Dr. Sullivan said.

Dr. Sullivan will attend a conference in Washington, D. C., Dec. 9 to secure additional information on the program. He said he will be one of eight institute directors from Texas and one of 596 from throughout the United States at the conference.

The English institutes were begun last summer through grants from the NDEA for the improvement of instruction of English on the secondary level, Dr. Sullivan said. The institute this year will be devoted to advanced study in linguistics and literary composition.

Assisting Dr. Sullivan will be Mabel Hare, assistant professor of English at WTSU, and Mrs. Sue Park, teacher at Odessa Junior College, who will conduct the literary and composition section. Dr. David Conlin, professor of English at Arizona State University, will direct the institute's linguistics section.

Dr. Conlin has written extensively in the area of linguistics and is co-author of a series of high school English textbooks.

Chorale To Perform First Concert Sunday

First of a series of special concerts featuring the music of Dr. Houston Bright will be presented at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Fine Arts auditorium.

The concert, by the University Chorale under direction of Dr. Bright, will climax a week-long tour of ten Panhandle area high schools. A 12-piece Brass and Percussion Company, which accompanied the Chorale on tour, will also appear on the Sunday program.

The series of concerts honoring Dr. Bright is in celebration of his Silver Anniversary as composer - in - residence at WTSU. The 44-voice group of which he is director is selected by rigid audition and, in addition to annual tours, appears in area concerts and various television appearances every year.

Highlight of the Sunday concert will be performance of a three-movement Bach concerto for two violins by Nancy Barker and Linda McKinley, both of Amarillo. They will be accompanied by Stanley Potter, instructor of piano.

Among Dr. Bright's sacred music selections to be used are his "Sunrise Alleluia," which will feature the Brass and Percussion Company; "Could Ye Not Watch With Me," from Matthew 26; and "Hodie Hobis Coelorum Rex," or "Today Is Born the King of Heaven," written for two equal choirs.

MRS. DEAN KENT EUBANK

Formal Ceremonies Unite Rector-Eubank

Emerald greenery and candelabra formed a background for the wedding of Miss Janice Evelyn Rector and Dean Kent Eubank Friday, November 26, at the First Methodist Church of Tulia.

Rev. Luther Baker, pastor of Sparenburg Methodist Church, and Rev. H. B. Coggin, pastor of Tulia First Methodist, officiated at the double ring ceremonies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rector of Tulia and the bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Vera Mae Eubank of Brownfield.

Greenery also adorned the altar rail. Accents were American Beauty bows and streamers with bouquets of roses and carnations centering the arrangements.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Larry Douglas, organist, who played traditional selections, and Doug Sewell of Brownfield, a student of the bride, who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The reading of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee?" was given by Mrs. Ben Kelln of Lubbock, sister of the bride. The service also included the reading of I Corinthians, Chapter 13.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight silk peau de soie. The empire bodice of sculptured silk was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves tapering to petal points above the hands. A band of sculptured silk encircled the waistline and featured a self bow in center front and back. The sheath skirt was accented with a gently draped overskirt, banded along the edges with sculptured silk, swept into a chapel train. Her shoulder length veil of imported illusion was held by a double queen's crown of seed pearls. The bride designed her wedding gown, which was made by her mother.

She carried a cascade of white roses and white feathered carnations edged with a white lace handkerchief. Her only jewelry was a pearl drop, a gift of the bridegroom. For something old, the bride carried a silver dollar given to her by Rev. Baker on her eleventh birthday. A lace garter from Brussels, Belgium, was something new, and her bridal veil was borrowed from a friend, Mrs. Ronald Gruben. She also had the traditional blue garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Beth Kelln of Lubbock, niece of the bride. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Ben Kelln, Lubbock, sister of the bride; Mrs. Travis Rector, Roosevelt, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Ronald Gruben, Lubbock; Mrs. William H. Doan, Chattanooga, Tennessee; Miss Linda Mae Knox, Houston; and Miss Susan Anderson, Dallas.

Bridal attendants were attired in formal gowns of American Beauty red brocaded silk styled with a bow trimmed belt at the empire waistline and elbow length sleeves. Necklines were scooped low in the back over a floating floor length panel attached at the waistband. Short white gloves and dyed to match shoes complemented their costumes. Each attendant carried a white candle in glass globe set in a white antique candlestick, accented with white streamers.

Flower girl was Kelly Rector of Roosevelt, niece of the bride. She wore a dress of red velvet with a full skirt over white eyelet. Puff sleeves were trimmed in white eyelet and a bow tie enhanced the back of the street-length skirt. She had matching red shoes and carried a white basket of flower petals.

Lee Frieze of Big Spring, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Travis Rector, Roosevelt, brother of the bride; Ben Kelln, Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bride; Curtis Eubank, Lubbock, uncle of the bridegroom; Jim Daggs, Midland, uncle of the bridegroom; Tommy Dale Mason and Charles Reese, both of Brownfield.

Lighting candles were Kent Kelln, nephew of the bride, and Susan Wall, both of Lubbock. Ring bearers were Bret Kelln, Lubbock, nephew of the bride, and Jay Frieze, Big Spring, cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rector selected a pink metallic brocade silk dress complemented with a matching brocade coat. Matching pink hat and shoes, white beaded bag, and long white kid gloves were her accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise brocade three-piece suit with gold underlay. Her accessories were a mink trimmed beige hat and beige leather gloves and bag. Both mothers wore corsages of American Beauty roses.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception held in the church parlor following the ceremony. Mrs. Gary Don Bowe of Lubbock presided at the guest register, which featured a bookmarker of white carnations and American Beauty roses. Reception music was played by Larry Douglas at the piano.

Attendants' candles and an American Beauty red globe and flower arrangement decorated the refreshment table, which was laid with a white lace cloth over white satin. Table cover was caught at the corners with roses.

Punch and a white three-tiered wedding cake were served by Miss Susan Shropshire of Brownfield and Mrs. David McCampbell. Other houseparty members were Miss Fran O'Gorman of Shamrock; Mrs. Norman Freeman of Happy; Mrs. Harry Edwards of Austin; Miss Neva Lois Ray of Brownfield; and Mrs. Allen Glenn, Miss Sandra Sharp, Mrs. Theron Culwell, Mrs. Kenneth Littlefield, Miss Karen Sprawls and Mrs. Dale Swinburn, all of Tulia.

For travel the bride wore a winter white dress of sheer wool with long tapered sleeves and round neckline. White fur trimmed the elbow-length sleeves of her walking coat, which complemented the ensemble. Accents of white kid gloves, and winter white lizard bag and shoes were used. Her corsage was of white roses and white feathered carnations.

The bride is teaching history and geography for the third year in Brownfield High School. A 1960 graduate of Tulia High School, she was graduated from West Texas State University in 1963 with the B. A. degree. She was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, Alpha Chi, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Alpha Theta, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The bride plans to complete work for the master's degree from WTSU during the summer.

A 1959 graduate of Brownfield High School, the bridegroom has served four years with the U. S. Air Force. He is a sophomore marketing major at South Plains Junior College in Levelland, where he is vice president of CamVets.

The couple will make their home in Brownfield.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Elm Tree Inn, Tulia, with the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eubank, Lubbock, as hosts for the occasion.

MR. & MRS. E.M. MEYERS

Two-Seat Bicycle Is Couple's Hobby

BY LORENA MILLER

"A bicycle built for two is what we selected as a family sport," commented Mrs. E. M. Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, in their mid-50's, can be seen each night riding in the streets of Canyon or on the highways adjoining town.

"We have always played family games together," said Mrs. Meyers who has almost lost her eyesight. "I used to enjoy afternoon walks, but my husband doesn't like to walk much."

"He built a bicycle when he was a youngster, but had never bought one for himself, so that is what we selected," stated the grandmother.

Mrs. Meyers has had failing eyesight for some five years and has had several operations for cataracts. She has also had two cornea transplants which were unsuccessful. Within the past eighteen months, Mrs. Meyers has lost her eyesight almost completely.

"We first rented one of the bicycles for our evening rides," said Mrs. Meyers. "Then in summer we decided to buy one for ourselves."

"Every evening we ride about five miles together. Sometimes we go out on the Hereford Highway or down south of the high school on that paved road," she smiled.

"The light on our bike helps out since it is getting dark so early these days," commented Mrs. Meyers. "We enjoy just riding around in town, too."

"Several have stopped to ask us about the bicycle trips and seemed to think it was a good idea," she said.

Adjustment to her blindness has been a big step for Mrs. Meyers, who was raised at Floydada. She commented that she still "fixes a majority of the family's meals and does her own housework."

The Meyers, Bobbie and E. M., were married in 1935 at Tulia. Mr. Meyers was raised at Canyon, completing high school at West Texas Training School and taking a couple of years of college at WT.

Mr. Meyers was formerly in the farming equipment business with his brother. He is presently associated with Poole Farm and Ranch Supply.

The Meyers have been residents of Canyon for some 30 years and are active members of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Meyers is a former member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Murray Bible Class and Conrad Class.

An active citizen, Mr. Meyers is a member of the church board of the First Methodist Church and in the Chamber of Commerce. He is a former member of the Canyon Lions Club. A Sunday golfer, Mr. Meyers is also a member of the Canyon City Club.

The couple has three children, including Al Rushing, who graduated from Canyon High School and holds a degree from West Texas State University. Al is a government examiner, and he and his wife, Mary Rose, travel throughout Texas and New Mexico.

Barbara Buster, the Meyers' daughter, also graduated from CHS and holds a degree from WT. Mrs. Buster has a son, Ricky Tom, and her husband, Harry, works at Penny's in Sunset Center, Amarillo.

Elo Meyers, youngest of the Meyers children, is a sophomore student at West Texas State University. He also graduated from Canyon High School.

The remainder of the Meyers family includes the family pet "Lucky", a boxer-bulldog.

"Bicycle riding is good exercise, which we enjoy," smiled Mrs. Meyers.

"I'm just wondering if we can get snowtires when it really gets to be winter," she concluded.

Happy Legion Clubs Attend Zone Meeting

H. of Melrose, New Mexico, and James of Fort Worth; and daughters Mrs. Dale Brittain of Nederland, Mrs. Alvin Fleming of Vigo Park, Mrs. A. J. McCarley of Happy and Mrs. Bobby Pittori of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Also surviving are a brother, G. A. Jackson of Dennison; sisters, Mrs. Esteen Latham of Tulia and Mrs. Troy Stryker of Fort Worth; and 15 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Kendrick during the holidays were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clutchfield, of Elk City, Oklahoma.

Also visiting were Mrs. Kendrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Calvert, of San Antonio.

Visiting with the Clyde McDonalds during the holidays were her mother, Mrs. Pearl Roberts of Happy, and sisters, Stella Williams of Canyon and Mae Jones of Ocalla, Florida.

Also visiting the McDonalds were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snow, Nancy and Mike, of Amarillo.

Holiday week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McReynolds were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heare and children, Steve and Teri Kay, of Pampa.

We go to all the trouble of redesigning our interiors, improving our handling, and refining our Wide-Track ride, and some people buy us just for our looks.

Our new Executive Hardtop Coupe. Like all 1966 Pontiacs it includes outside mirror, padded dash and visors, backup lights, front and rear seat belts, dual-speed windshield wipers, and washers to clean your windshield for better visibility.

Just once we'd like to have people fall in love with the inside of our cars before they flip for the outside. We spend so much time and effort in there.

Why, this year alone we've made available brand-new wraparound buckets and profile bench seats. Not to mention extending our use of rich, genuine walnut paneling. And nicer instrument clusters you've never seen.

We've even had our engineers take our test cars apart to see if they can make them smoother, quieter, and more luxurious. And they came up with improvements that, incredibly enough, make our Pontiacs even more enjoyable to drive.

Really, though—we don't care which one of our features gets you inside one of our new Pontiacs, just as long as it gets you there. And it will. At least judging by the number of Pontiacs you see on the road.

Construction Begins On New Baptist Church

Construction on the new First Baptist Church of Happy was begun following groundbreaking ceremonies at the church Sunday of last week.

Tom Badrow is contractor for the new structure, which will be built at the west end of Main Street. Contract price is approximately $167,000 for the 12,500 square foot building, which includes a fully equipped kitchen and built-ins in all rooms.

TENOR BRIAN SULLIVAN will entertain Saturday, December 11, in the second program of the 1965-66 Community Concerts season in Canyon. The popular six-footer has achieved great success in opera, Broadway musicals, television and recordings and is now drawing enthusiastic crowds in concert appearances throughout the United States and Canada.

Versatile Tenor In Concert Here

Brian Sullivan sings, "obviously, not just to earn a living but because he loves to sing."

This was the impression gained by a Fort Wayne (Indiana) Journal-Gazette critic at a concert by Sullivan, who will appear in Canyon December 11 as part of the Community Concert series.

Audiences throughout the nation seem to agree. According to the San Antonio News, the tenor was "roundly applauded" for "a refreshingly unhackneyed program."

The good-looking six-footer has been popular in starring roles in operetta and musical comedy, as a recording artist, and in appearances for the "Voice of Firestone."

New operatic triumphs were added during the past season, when he appeared in the first operatic production to be given in Los Angeles' new Music Center -- Richard Strauss' "Salome," with Sullivan as Herod. Albert Goldberg of The Los Angeles Times noted, "It was a splendid characterization and brilliantly sung."

Sullivan's early success in opera was interrupted by military service during the war, but following those years he scored on Broadway in the hit revival of "Showboat," in which he portrayed Gaylord Ravenal. From there he went on to the Elmer Rice-Kurt Weill "Street Scene," where he attracted the attention of Metropolitan Opera scouts. Soon he became one of the busiest tenors on the Met roster.

Most recently the career of Brian Sullivan has taken him to virtually every corner of the United States as recitalist -- a medium the performer enjoys in that it provides him the opportunity of expanding his interpretive talents. Judging from the enthusiastic praise from critics and public alike, his increased activities as a concert singer amount to virtually another career for the gifted Irishman.

Commented the Wilmington (Delaware) Evening Journal, "A name as euphonious as 'Brian Sullivan' reflects the lilt and color and magic of his voice. It is a real pleasure to see a good-looking tenor singing the romantic roles tenors are most often called on to perform. HURRY BACK MR. S!"

Sullivan's concert is scheduled for 8 p. m. December 11 and will be presented in the Canyon High School auditorium.

Choirs Present Cantatas

"Kneel at the Manger," an evangelistic Christmas cantata, will be presented by the Youth Choir at services of the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, December 5.

Evening services will feature a cantata by the Junior Choir entitled "Lo, A Star".

"The Wondrous Light," a service in song, will be presented on Sunday, December 12, at the evening services of the First Baptist Church. Choirs participating in the special service will include Beginner, Primary, Junior, Youth and Sanctuary choirs.

Miss Smith Named YWCA Staff Member

Miss Dixie Smith is a new member of the Young Women's Christian Association staff, assisting with Y-Teens and Teenage program.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Amarillo High School and was a member of the Sandie Steppers and active in Y-Teens for six years. She is presently attending West Texas State University, where she was elected cheerleader.

Guest Night For Dancers

Guest caller night was held Monday for the Canyon Capers Square Dance Club at the Junior Livestock Building.

Callers visiting were Roger Thompson, Roy Johnson, Jack Grimes and Don Johnson.

NURSES' CAPS were awarded to three Canyon girls in ceremonies at Forrest Heights Methodist Church in Lubbock recently. Presentations were made to, left to right, Mary Nitengale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Nitengale; Ann Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Fisher; and Joan Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Malone. All three are graduates of Canyon High School and are studying at the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Lubbock.

Local Girls Presented Nurse Cap

Miss Mary Nitengale, one of the first students of nursing to enter West Texas State University's Opportunity Plan, has received her "nurse's cap" in ceremonies at Lubbock.

Miss Nitengale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Nitengale of Canyon, attended WTSU two years and has been at the Methodist School of Nursing in Lubbock for eight weeks.

Also receiving nurses caps were Ann Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Fisher, and Joan Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Malone.

Gene Quest of Lubbock, WTSU graduate and the first contributor to the Opportunity Plan, made the presentations and was guest speaker for the capping ceremonies Sunday, November 21.

ManCharged In Shooting

John W. Story, 48 years old, the Palisades, was charged with assault with intent to murder after a shooting scrape in the Palisades Thanksgiving afternoon.

Suffering minor injuries, believed to have been inflicted by glass from a bullet-punctured windshield, were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Amarillo.

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston said the shooting erupted in an argument over two grandchildren of the Wilsons and Story.

Here's how the sheriff described the incident.

The Wilsons' daughter is the estranged wife of Jay W. Story. The grandchildren, a girl, 4 years old, and a boy, 7, were staying at the Story home in the Palisades. Jay Story also has been staying at his father's home but was away at work when the incident occurred.

Johnston said the Wilsons and Mrs. Story visited the Palisades home Thanksgiving afternoon and the argument flared over whether the children would be allowed to accompany them back to Amarillo.

Mrs. Story and the children were in the back seat of the Wilson car and the Wilsons were in the front seat when a bullet was fired into the windshield, according to Johnston.

The Wilsons were treated at Neblett Hospital in Canyon for minor cuts, the sheriff reported.

Story was arraigned before Randall County Justice of the Peace W. W. Hancock. His bond was set at $1,500 and he was freed after posting bond.

Guests of the Velton Sorgee family on Thanksgiving Day were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roark of Wellington, and Mrs. Sorgee's sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Karnes, and children, Lisa and Mike of Plainview.

MEDICINES OUT OF THE EARTH

The biblical Book of Ecclesiastes, written over 2000 years ago, advised the wise to go to the earth for healing drugs. This directive was followed, but in the last fifty years more valuable discoveries have been perfected than all the preceding centuries.

Medicines now do more than just give relief from pain and discomfort. Many of them can accomplish a cure. But first the cause must be diagnosed by a physician. You can get any needed medicine from us.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours? Registered Pharmacist on duty.
